What's going on in the Battalion?

The cadets of the Ute Warrior Battalion are currently preparing for the Spring FTX. This is the culminating event the UWB has been progressing towards since August of 2017. Over the course of three days and two nights, cadets will conduct platoon sized missions to develop enhanced leadership skills. The Spring FTX will prepare students for four weeks of Cadet Summer Training at Fort Knox, KY. Be sure to check the UWB Facebook page for photos, videos, highlights, and more information.
About our MS3 Cadet Leadership

Company Commander
Jack Maddox

1st Sergeant
Daniel Spence

Executive Officer
Brennan Rinderknecht

Cadet Maddox is a Utah native and youngest of three brothers; one brother is a former Marine and a current student at San Diego State University. Another brother is a graduate from the United States Military Academy at West Point, NY and currently serving as a Second Lieutenant in the 25th Infantry Division. Cadet Maddox spent much of his K-12 education at Skaggs Catholic Center and graduated from Juan Diego Catholic High School. From high school, Cadet Maddox was accepted to Westminster College, majoring in Physics. A recipient of an Army ROTC four-year scholarship, he has dedicated himself to excellence in all aspects of life, especially in being a capable and confident leader. His hope is to branch Aviation or Infantry. Ultimately, Cadet Maddox attributes his love of country and character to his upbringing, particularly the positive examples his brothers and parents set for him. Cadet Maddox is proud to be a part of the United States Army and honored to be able to give back to this great country.
